Introduction to the Federal Student Aid Handbook

Appendices

The appendices to the Federal Student Aid Handbook contain information of general interest that isn't appropriate for inclusion in just one volume or is so unique that it requires separate treatment. Four of the appendices were previously found in The Blue Book, the fifth has been part of the Handbook in previous years.

- ▶ The appendices have been renumbered.
- ▶ Appendix A is the glossary of federal student aid terms. Experienced financial aid professionals will be familiar with most of the terms included. However, because the Handbook has replaced The Blue Book as a reference for business officers, fiscal officers, state audit agencies, and independent accounting professionals performing non-federal audits, many accounting and financial terms have been included. For 2105–2016, a list of the acronyms most commonly found in the Handbook and other student aid literature has been added at the end of the alphabetic glossary entries. Appendix A now includes the list of acronyms that was formerly in Appendix B.
- ▶ Appendix B is a directory of resources for technical information and specialized assistance with managing the federal student aid programs.
- ▶ Appendix C provides in one place information found in other parts of the Handbook and in previous sub-regulatory communications on how a school should proceed when a currently enrolled recipient of federal student aid dies before completing the period for which the student has received aid.
- ▶ Appendix D is a description of the FSA Assessments annotated to identify those that might be of interest to fiscal officers.
- ▶ Appendix E summarizes Internal Revenue Service (IRS) forms that might be of special interest to a fiscal/business office.
- ▶ Appendix F is a summary of the reporting and disclosure requirements for schools' eligibility to participate in the Title IV, Higher Education Act (HEA) student assistance programs.
- ▶ Appendix G, when available will be a table of contents for the Higher Education Act as amended.

Composite Score The composite score standard combines different measures of the elements of financial health to yield a single measure of a school's overall financial health. This method allows financial strength in one area to make up for financial weakness in another area, and provides an equitable measure of the financial health of schools of different sizes. Included in the calculation are the following ratios: Primary Reserve, Equity, and Net Income.

Comprehensive Student Work-Learning-Service Program A student work-learning-service program that

- ♦ is an integral and stated part of the institution's educational philosophy and program;
- ♦ requires participation of all resident students for enrollment and graduation;
- ♦ includes learning objectives, evaluation, and a record of work performance as part of the student's college record;
- ♦ provides programmatic leadership by college personnel at levels comparable to traditional academic programs;
- ♦ recognizes the educational role of work-learning-service supervisors; and

- ♦ includes consequences for nonperformance or failure in the work-learning-service program similar to the consequences for failure in the regular academic program.

Comprehensive Transition and Postsecondary Program A degree, certificate, nondegree, or noncertificate program that

- ♦ is offered by a participating institution;
- ♦ is delivered to students physically attending the institution;
- ♦ is designed to support students with intellectual disabilities who are seeking to continue academic, career and technical, and independent living instruction at an institution of higher education in order to prepare for gainful employment;
- ♦ includes an advising and curriculum structure;
- ♦ requires students with intellectual disabilities to have at least one-half of their participation in the program, as determined by the institution, focus on academic components through courses or activities taken jointly with students without disabilities; and
- ♦ provides students with intellectual disabilities opportunities to participate in coursework and other activities with students without disabilities.

Computer Controls Internal controls performed by computer software as opposed to manual controls. Also means general and application controls over the computer processing of data.

Concurrent Deferment In the Perkins Program, automatic deferments schools must grant during periods of service for which schools also grant loan cancellation. Borrowers do not need to apply for these automatic deferments.

Conditional Acceptance Condition whereby a student is admitted to an academic program provisionally until the student can demonstrate ability to succeed in the program by either furnishing documentation (such as transcripts or test scores) or receiving acceptable grades in program coursework. Students admitted in this manner are regular students only if the school accepts them into an eligible degree or certificate program.

Conflicting Information A discrepancy in the information that a school has regarding a student that affects his or her eligibility for federal student aid. A school must resolve conflicting information about a student before that student can receive federal student aid.

Consolidated Financial Statements Financial statements that reflect the total economic entity (all entities with same management are presented together and all related party transactions are eliminated from the statements). For example, on a consolidated income statement a corporation that owns several individual schools would report the total of all of its schools' activities. A consolidated balance sheet would report the combined assets except for claims against schools within its group.

Consolidation The process of combining one or more loans into a single new loan.

Consortium A group of two or more eligible schools that interacts with the Department in the same manner as other schools, except that the business between the Department and the schools is channeled through a single point.

Consortium Agreement A written agreement between two or more eligible schools.

Consumer Information The information that a school must provide about financial aid and its campus, facilities, student athletes, and gainful employment programs as well as information to promote campus security and fire safety and prevent drug and alcohol abuse, as required under HEA Sec. 485(f) and 34 CFR 668.41–49.

Continuing Education Coursework usually intended for adult and non-traditional students in which a student receives instruction that supplements a his or her previous education. Student can only receive Title IV aid for continuing education classes and credits only when those courses and credits are applicable to a degree or certificate program.

Contra Account One of two or more accounts which partially or wholly offset another or other accounts; on financial statements, they may be either merged or appear together.

Contractual Agreement A written agreement between an eligible school and an ineligible school.

Control Documented activities, policies, and procedures that help an organization meet its objectives, attain its goals, and accomplish its mission.

Control Account A general ledger account containing the correct total amount without containing the details. For example, Accounts Receivable could be a control account in the general ledger. Each day the total of the day's credit and collections are posted to this account. However, the details involving students' accounts will be found in a subsidiary ledger.

Control Activities Control activities are actions supported by policies and procedures that help ensure management directives are carried out properly and in a timely manner. Control activities can be classified either as preventive or detective. Preventive controls (e.g., approvals) attempt to deter or prevent undesirable events. Detective controls (e.g., reconciliations) attempt to detect undesirable events.

Control Environment or Internal Control Environment The overall attitude, awareness, and actions of directors and management (i.e., "those charged with governance") regarding the internal control system and its importance to the entity. A positive control environment is the foundation for all internal control standards. It provides discipline and structure as well as the climate of the workplace, which influences the quality of internal control.

Control Objectives Goals or standards for reducing or eliminating potential risks to an organization's mission.

Control Systems The organizational structure, operational procedures, and administrative practices adopted by all levels of management to provide reasonable assurance that programs and administrative activities are effectively carried out.

COO Chief Operating Officer

Cooperative (aka Co-op) Education Program A program that integrates classroom learning and structured work experiences directly related to the goals and objectives of the student's larger educational program. Students earn credit for successfully completed paid or unpaid Cooperative Work Experiences (CWE).

A school must have a written policy that describes the formula (may be specified by the school's state or accreditation agency) for converting the work portion of a Cooperative Education Program to credits. If the result equals or exceeds a full-time academic load, the co-op student is considered full time regardless of how many credits are earned for the co-op work.

Coordinating Official A capable individual responsible for administering all the Title IV, HEA programs in which a school participates and for coordinating those programs with the institution's other federal and nonfederal programs of student financial assistance. An individual is "capable" if certified by the state in which the school is located and the state requires certification of financial aid administrators. Other factors in determining capability include, but are not limited to, the individual's successful completion of Title IV program training provided or approved by the Secretary and previous experience and documented success in administering the Title IV programs properly.

Correcting Entry A journal entry to correct an erroneous amount previously entered in the general ledger.

Correction Edit Codes (Pell Grant program only) If schools select to have their Pell Grant data corrected rather than rejected, the COD system automatically corrects the data and sends a response to the school that submitted the record indicating that a correction took place, the element corrected, the original value, and the corrected value. Edits that can be corrected, rather than rejected, are indicated with a C/R in the Volume II, Section 4—Edit codes in the COD Technical Reference.

Corrective Action Actions needed to address an issue of noncompliance.

Corrective Action Plan (CAP) Statement of the corrective actions related to noncompliance, to include a responsible official, milestones toward completion of the action, metrics which measure progress and remediation, and dates when these milestones will be addressed. CAPs are to be maintained by the organization, and the status is to be reported as directed.

Correspondence Course A course provided by an institution under which the institution provides instructional materials, by mail or electronic transmission, including examinations on the materials, to students who are separated from the instructor. Interaction between the instructor and student is limited, is not regular and substantive, and is primarily initiated by the student. Correspondence courses are typically self-paced. If a course is part correspondence and part residential training, the Department considers the course to be a correspondence course. Note: A correspondence course is not distance education.

Correspondence Student Limitation The requirement that less than 50% of a school's regular students be enrolled in correspondence courses for the school to be eligible to participate in the Title IV programs. This limitation may be waived for a school that offers a 2-year associate degree or 4-year baccalaureate degree program if it demonstrates to the Department that in that award year the students enrolled in correspondence courses receive no more than 5% of the total FSA program funds received by all of the school's students.

Cost The monetary value of resources used or sacrificed, or liabilities incurred to achieve an objective, such as to acquire or produce a product, or to perform an activity or service. Depending on the nature of the transaction, cost may be charged to operations immediately, i.e., recognized as an expense of the period, or to an asset account for recognition as an expense of subsequent periods.

Cost of Attendance (COA) The cost in dollars, of a period of enrollment (such as an academic year). The COA for a student is an estimate of that student's educational expenses for the period of enrollment. Defining a student's COA is the first step in establishing a student's financial need. It sets the limit on the total need-based federal student aid a student may receive and is one of the components of the Pell Grant calculation. For a detailed explanation of the components included in Cost of Attendance see the Higher Education Act, as amended, Part F, Section 472.

Critical Audit Matters Those matters addressed during the audit that (1) involved the most difficult, subjective, or complex auditor judgments; (2) posed the most difficulty to the auditor in obtaining sufficient appropriate evidence; or (3) posed the most difficulty to the auditor in forming the opinion on the financial statements. Critical audit matters ordinarily are matters of such importance that they are included in the matters required to be (1) documented in the engagement completion document that summarizes the significant issues and findings from the audit; (2) reviewed by the engagement quality reviewer; (3) communicated to the audit committee; and (4) any combination of the three.

Critical Matter Standard in the Auditor Report Requires an auditor to communicate in the auditor's report (when the auditor expresses an unqualified opinion) critical audit matters that were addressed during the audit of the current period's financial statements. The matching funds must be deposited at the same time the federal funds are deposited. Awards to FSEOG recipients are then made from this mixed fund. Schools using the fund-specific method must deposit their institutional match at the time they receive the federal share funds.

Inadvertent Overpayment Occurs when a school disburses FSA funds to a student who is no longer in attendance, for example, when a school makes a scheduled disbursement on Monday to a student who dropped out on the previous Friday. Incentive Repayment Program Steps a school (in the Perkins Program) may take to encourage a borrower to make regular payments. Included are reducing a loan’s interest rate by up to 1% if the borrower makes 48 consecutive monthly payments; and discounting (Reducing) the balance a borrower owes on a loan if he or she pays the loan in full before the end of the repayment period. With the Department’s approval, a school may establish any other repayment incentive options that reduces default and replenishes the funds available to lend to students.

Indirect Cost A cost that cannot be identified specifically with or traced to a given cost object in an economically feasible way.

Training Officers & Institutional Improvement Specialists

Training Officers

Training officers provide local, regional, and national training on a wide variety of Title IV topics. Training venues include financial aid associations, state organizations, Department of Education national conferences, Department of Education online training, and fundamental workshops for new schools and financial aid staff. In addition, training officers provide direct assistance to schools by answering questions, conducting research, and distributing information.

Though training officers train on a national scope, each training officer resides in a particular region made up of specific states. Due to state and school system differences, concentration of certain types of institutions and general workload issues, we encourage schools to contact those training officers located within their region for assistance.

Institutional Improvement Specialists

Institutional Improvement Specialists (IIS) are part of the regional School Participation Teams (SPTs). SPTs work with institutional eligibility, resolve institutional independent audits, review school financial statements, conduct TIV program reviews, and provide technical assistance.

IIS assist schools within their regions that are beginning their participation in the federal student aid programs. They conduct technical assistance visits (on-site and off-site), provide one-on-one training, and answer general questions. In addition, an IIS might work closely with schools to resolve eligibility, audit, and/or financial concerns.

Actions a School Should Take When a Current Student Dies

Here we describe how a school should proceed when a currently enrolled recipient of federal student aid dies.

WHEN A SCHOOL RECEIVES INFORMATION THAT A STUDENT HAS DIED

If, during the school year, a school receives information that a current recipient of Title IV aid has died, the school must determine the validity of that information. Until the school has determined whether or not the student remains in attendance, the school may not make additional disbursements of Title IV aid to the student (including releasing any Title IV credit balance that might exist on the student's account from a disbursement made previously).

In order to avoid causing distress to a student's family and friends based on an inaccurate report of a student's death received by the school, the school should first make internal inquiries and consult public information sources. If there is no local newspaper report of a student's death, a school can conduct an online search of the student's hometown newspaper and the newspapers where the death was reported to occur. A school can also search the student's home state vital records office (a list is available at www.cdc.gov/nchs/w2w.htm). Internally, a school should get attendance reports from the faculty in whose classes the student is currently enrolled. If the student lives on campus, the school should contact the appropriate residence hall staff to see what information the staff possesses. Faculty members and residence hall staff should be told that if the student is present, it is critical the student call or visit the financial aid office. The school should also write the student at the local residence of record and at any electronic address available (email and social media) to inform the student that it will not be making further disbursements of financial aid to the student until he or she calls or visits the financial aid office.

CPS Match with the U.S. Social Security Administration

The Social Security numbers of applicants currently in Federal Student Aid's Central Processing System (for all award years currently being processed) are matched weekly against SSA records. If the Social Security number entered in Item 8 of the FAFSA matches that of a deceased person in the SSA records, the CPS will send a new ISIR to all schools indicated on the student's FAFSA. The new ISIR will include Comment Code 076 and the comment text:

Social Security Administration (SSA) records indicate that the Social Security Number (SSN) that was provided in Item 8 belongs to a deceased person. If the SSN is correct, the applicant must contact the SSA at 1-800-772-1213 or www.socialsecurity.gov to resolve this problem. If the SSN is incorrect, the applicant must correct the SSN on a paper SAR or submit a new FAFSA online with the correct SSN.

If a school receives an ISIR that contains Comment Code 076, it must treat the ISIR as conflicting information.

Documentation required for discharge of a federal student loan when a student dies

In order to discharge the unpaid balance of a Perkins Loan (including NDSL and Defense loans), FFEL program loan, or Direct Loan, except in exceptional circumstances and on a case-by-case basis, the loan holder or servicer must obtain an original or certified copy of a death certificate or an accurate and complete photocopy of the original or certified copy of the death certificate.

34 CFR 674.61(a)
34 CFR 682.402(b)
34 CFR 685.212

Enrollment Reporting When a Current Student Has Died

If a school has obtained a copy of the death certificate for a current student, the school must update the student's status in NSLDS. If the school is due to perform its regular Enrollment Status Reporting within the next 14 days, the school may use that process to update the student's status. If the school's regular Enrollment Reporting is more than 14 days in the future, we recommend that the school manually update the student's enrollment status on the NSLDS Professional Access Web site at www.nsldsfa.gov/nslds_FAP/ (under the Enrollment reporting tab) to a status of "D."

Returning loan funds when a student dies

A school that has to return Direct Loan funds because a student has died should always return them using G5.

A school should complete its internal attempt to resolve the report of the student's death within 30 days. After 30 days, if the school has not resolved the report of the student's death, a school should seek information from the student's family (named on the FAFSA if the student is dependent or married) and any references the student provided during entrance counseling (if the student is a recipient of a federal student loan).

A school that is unable to confirm a student's death must make a determination that the student is no longer in attendance (has withdrawn) 30 days after the end of the earlier of the

- ♦ payment or enrollment period;
- ♦ academic year in which the student was enrolled;
- ♦ educational program in which the student was attending.

A school must return any Title IV funds required under 34 CFR 668.22 as soon as possible but no later than 45 days after date school determined student withdrew.

Withdrawal date when a student dies

If a school that is not required to take attendance is informed that a student has died, it must determine the withdrawal date for the student under 34 CFR 668.22(c)(1)(iv). This section provides that if the institution determines that a student did not begin its withdrawal process or otherwise provide official notification of his or her intent to withdraw because of illness, accident, grievous personal loss, or other such circumstances beyond the student's control, the withdrawal date is the date that the institution determines is related to that circumstance.

The withdrawal date can be no later than the date of the student's death. For an institution that is required to take attendance, the withdrawal date for a student who has died is the last date of attendance as determined from the school's attendance records. The school must maintain the documentation it received that the student has died and determine an appropriate withdrawal date.

When a student who has outstanding federal student loan obligations dies

The regulations governing Perkins Loans (including Defense and NDSL loans), FFEL program loans, and Direct Loans provide for discharge of a borrower's obligation to repay those loans if the borrower dies (including a Direct Parent PLUS Loan borrower's obligation to repay a Direct PLUS Loan if the student on whose behalf the parent borrowed dies).

If a school has information that a current or former student who has an unretired federal student loan obligation has died, the school must try to obtain an original or certified copy of the borrower's death certificate, or an accurate and complete photocopy of the original or certified copy of the death certificate, and provide the death certificate to the holder of the student's loans.

Documentation required for discharge of a federal student loan when a student dies

In order to discharge the unpaid balance of a Perkins Loan (including NDSL and Defense loans), FFEL program loan, or Direct Loan, except in exceptional circumstances and on a case-by-case basis, the loan holder or servicer must obtain an original or certified copy of a death certificate or an accurate and complete photocopy of the original or certified copy of the death certificate.

Obtaining a death certificate or an acceptable copy of a death certificate

If a school confirms that a current recipient of Title IV aid has died, the school must try to obtain an original or certified copy of the recipient's death certificate, or an accurate and complete photocopy of the original or certified copy of the death certificate. The families of deceased persons have primary responsibility for notifying local and national authorities when a family member dies. (Doctors, other medical professionals, and mortuaries often perform this function, but the responsibility remains with the deceased's family.) Therefore, for dependent students or married independent students, unless the school can determine (for example, from a notice of death or news report) that a medical professional or mortuary was involved, a school seeking to obtain a student's death certificate or an acceptable copy of the death certificate should start with the student's family. Unless the school can determine from a notice of death or news report that a medical professional or mortuary was involved (and from whom the school should first make a request), a school should inquire at local government record offices where the death occurred and offices where the student's permanent residence is located. (Since individual state rules for documenting the death of an individual and obtaining a copy of an individual's death certificate differ widely, a school should consult with its attorney to establish procedures for obtaining the required documentation from local authorities.)

Deadline for determination

A school that is unable to confirm a student's death must make a determination that the student is no longer in attendance (has withdrawn) 30 days after the end of the earlier of the:

- payment or enrollment period;
- academic year in which the student was enrolled;
- educational program in which the student was attending.

A school must return any Title IV funds required under 34 CFR 668.22 as soon as possible but no later than 45 days after date school determined student withdrew.

When a student who has died is due a post-withdrawal disbursement

Clarification

When a deceased student has earned FWS income

A school may deliver any FWS income earned by a deceased student to the student's estate.

A school may not make a post-withdrawal disbursement of Title IV funds to the account or estate of a student who has died.

If a school determines that a student has died during a period, it must perform a Return calculation. If the Return calculation indicates that an institution is required to return Title IV funds, the school must return the Title IV funds for which it is responsible.

The student's estate is not required to return any Title IV funds disbursed to the student. Therefore, an institution should neither report a grant overpayment for a deceased student to NSLDS, nor refer a grant overpayment for a deceased student to Debt Resolution Services. If an institution had previously reported a grant overpayment for a student who is deceased to Debt Resolution Services, it should inform Debt Resolution Services that it has received notification that the student is deceased.

The regulations governing the Direct and Federal Perkins Loan programs provide for a discharge of a borrower's obligation to repay a Federal Direct or Federal Perkins Loan if the borrower dies (including a Direct PLUS Loan borrower's obligation to repay a Direct PLUS Loan if the student on whose behalf the parent borrowed dies). If a school is aware that a student who has died has any outstanding Title IV loan debt, the school should contact the student's estate and inform it of the actions it can take to have the student's Title IV loan debt cancelled.

If a Title IV credit balance created from funds disbursed before the death of the student exists after the completion of the Return calculation and the institutional refund calculations, the institution must resolve the Title IV credit balance as follows:

1. in accordance with the cash management regulations, paying authorized charges at the institution (including previously paid charges that are now unpaid due to the Return of Title IV funds by the institution);
2. returning any Title IV grant overpayments owed by the student for previous withdrawals from the present school (the institution may deposit the funds in its federal funds account and make the appropriate entry in G5);

If the institution has previously referred the grant overpayment to Debt Resolution Services, the institution should provide Debt Resolution Services with documentation that the student has died so that Debt Resolution Services can delete the overpayment from its records.

3. returning any remaining credit balance to the Title IV programs.

Miscellaneous Business Office Functions

There are two school reporting requirements that involve FSA that are not Department of Education requirements. Both reporting requirements are Treasury Department/Internal Revenue Service (IRS) requirements.

IRS FORM 1098

There are two variations of IRS form 1098—

- ♦ IRS Form 1098-E, and
- ♦ IRS Form 1098-T.

IRS FORM 1098-E

Your school must provide IRS Form 1098-E, Student Interest Statement, to all individuals who paid student loan interest of $600 or more on loans held by your school during a calendar year.

IRS FORM 1098-T

Your school must provide Form 1098-T, Tuition Statement, for each student enrolled for credit unless

1. the student is a nonresident alien (unless requested by the student);
2. the student's qualified tuition and related expenses are entirely waived, or entirely paid with scholarships or grants; or
3. the student's qualified tuition and related expenses are entirely covered by a formal billing arrangement between the school and the student's employer or a government agency such as the Department of Veterans Affairs or the Department of Defense.

IRS 1098 Cites

26 CFR Parts 1, 301, and 602
26 U.S.C. 6050S
Federal Register: April 29, 2002
(Volume 67, Number 82) Preamble to
Notice of Proposed Rule Making
Federal Register, December 19, 2002
(Volume 67, Number 244) Preamble to
Final Rules

The instruction for Form 1098-T do not specify what a school should do if –

- ♦ a student's qualified tuition and related expenses are entirely covered by a combination of scholarships, grants, and formal billing arrangement between the school and the student's employer or a government agency; or
- ♦ only a part of a student's qualified tuition and related expenses are covered by a formal billing arrangement between the school and the student's employer or a government agency.

We note that the preamble to the Final Regulations states that ... a taxpayer cannot claim the education credit for education expenses paid with amounts that are excludable from gross income. Educational expenses paid through a formal billing arrangement between an institution and a government entity such as the Veteran's Administration, often are excludable from the gross income of the individual student . (Federal Register, December 19, 2002 (Volume 67, Number 244) page 77680).

We encourage schools to seek guidance from their in-house counsel and the IRS on how to complete IRS Form 1098-T when the student falls into one of the aforementioned categories.

IRS FORMS 1042 AND 1042-S

Pell Grants and other Title IV need-based grants are tax free to the extent they are used to pay for qualified tuition and course-related expenses during the grant period. Qualified tuition and course-related expenses are defined as tuition, fees, books, supplies and equipment required for courses attempted by a degree candidate at an educational institution. To qualify, fees, books, supplies, and equipment must be required of all students in the course of instruction.

Amounts paid from Pell Grants and other Title IV need based grants other than for qualifying tuition and fees are taxable. This includes amounts paid for room and board, travel and supplies and equipment not required for the course of instruction at an educational institution. (See IRS Publication 520.)

Institutions are not required to withhold or report taxable scholarship amounts for students considered residents by the Internal Revenue Service. Students are considered residents for tax purposes if they are U.S. citizens, permanent residents, or nonresidents that meet the IRS substantial presence test, and are not subject to exemption or treaty benefits.

Institutions are required to meet withholding and reporting requirements for non residents. Non residents eligible for Title IV aid include asylees, refugees, and parolees. Schools must generate a 1042-S for each non resident student receiving taxable income other than wages. This includes Title IV need based aid and other grants or scholarships. Schools must also prepare a 1042 summarizing the data reported on the individual 1042-S forms. See IRS instructions for forms 1042 and 1042-S for filing requirements.

Institutions are required to withhold at the rate of 30% of the taxable portion of the Title IV aid for non residents unless the student passes the substantial presence test for the calendar year. To meet this test, the student must be physically present in the United States for

- ♦ at least 31 days during the current year; and
- ♦ 183 days during the three-year period that includes the current year, and the two years immediately before that. (Count all the days present in the current year, 1/3 of the days present in the first year before the current year and 1/6 of the days present in the second year before the current year.)

IRS Publications 515, Withholding of Tax on Nonresident Aliens and Foreign Entities and IRS Publication 519, U.S. Tax Guide for Aliens provide guidance on withholding and reporting requirements.

As a withholding agent, your school is liable for any taxes you are required to withhold. This liability is independent of the tax liability of the foreign student to whom the payment is made. If your school fails to withhold the required amount, and the foreign student fails to satisfy the U.S. tax liability, then both you and the foreign student are liable for the taxes, as well as for interest and any applicable penalties. (Note that the applicable tax will be collected only once.) Even if the foreign student satisfies his or her U.S. tax liability, your school may still be held liable for interest and penalties for your failure to withhold.

If an institution withholds amounts from taxable Title IV need based aid (or other- scholarships and grants) the institution must complete an IRS Form 1042-S, Foreign Person's U.S. Source Income Subject to Withholding. The foreign student must complete and file an IRS Form 1042, Annual Withholding Tax Return for U.S. Source Income of Foreign Persons with the Internal Revenue Service by March 15 of the year following the calendar year in which the Title IV need based aid or other grant or scholarship was paid.

Institutional Reporting and Disclosure Requirements for Federal Student Assistance Programs

The attached appendix provides postsecondary educational institutions with a comprehensive summary of reporting and disclosure requirements related to institutions' eligibility to participate in the Title IV, Higher Education Act (HEA) student assistance programs. In general, reports are submitted to the Department of Education, and disclosures are made to students and the public. However, in some cases—for example, the Campus Safety and Security Survey—information must be provided to both as well as to the institution's faculty and staff. This summary lists the reports and disclosures and their statutory or regulatory authority, a brief description of what is required in each report/disclosure and any other pertinent information, the due date, the method of transmittal or distribution, and the recipient of the report/disclosure. The publication of this document complies with requirements of section 482(e) of the HEA which requires the Secretary to provide institutions with a “compliance calendar” of all reports and disclosures required for participation in the Title IV programs.
